Dear Representatives LaHood, Higgins, Tonko, and Cole:

On behalf of the Alzheimer's Association and the Alzheimer's Impact Movement (AIM), including our nationwide networks of advocates, thank you for your continued leadership on issues and legislation important to Americans with Alzheimer's and other dementias, and to their caregivers. The Alzheimer's Association and AIM strongly support the bipartisan Comprehensive Care for Alzheimer's Act (H.R. 1637/S. 626) which would ask the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI) to implement a dementia care management model.

An estimated 6.5 million Americans age 65 and older are living with Alzheimer's dementia in 2022. Total payments for all individuals with Alzheimer's or other dementias are estimated at $321 billion (not including unpaid caregiving) in 2022. Medicare and Medicaid are expected to cover $206 billion or 64% of the total health care and long-term care payments for people with Alzheimer's or other dementias. Total payments for health care, long-term care, and hospice care for people with Alzheimer's and other dementias are projected to increase to nearly $1 trillion in 2050. These mounting costs threaten to bankrupt families, businesses, and our health care system. Unfortunately, our work is only growing more urgent.

The burden of caring for individuals with Alzheimer's and other dementias extends to the millions of Americans caring for those with the disease. In 2022, more than 11 million unpaid caregivers provided 16 billion hours of care valued at nearly $271.6 billion. Alzheimer's caregivers also report higher levels of stress, depression, and worse health outcomes when compared to others who are providing care to individuals without dementia. Given how wide-ranging dementia care can be, such as looking for primary care doctors and specialists for non-medical needs like daily care and handling finances, a dementia care management model would seriously benefit those living with Alzheimer's, as well as their families and caregivers. By providing this population with a more comprehensive understanding of the services available to them, better healthcare outcomes and a decrease in overall costs are possible.

The Comprehensive Care for Alzheimer's Act would ask CMMI to implement a dementia care management model to test the effectiveness of comprehensive care management services for persons with dementia. The model would establish high standards of care by requiring outreach to underrepresented populations and paying providers a monthly amount based on the complexity and quality of patient care – ensuring that caregivers are supported. The Alzheimer's Association and AIM deeply appreciate your continued leadership on behalf of all Americans living with Alzheimer's and other dementias. We look forward to continuing to work with you to advance this bill. If you have questions about this or any other legislation, please contact Sarah Tellock, Director of Congressional Affairs, at stellock@alz-aim.org or at 202.638.8676.

Sincerely,
